

Edinburgh Summer School in Clinical Education 2013

'State of the Art' workshops at Festival time

Are you enthusiastic about helping clinical students learn? Do you see yourself leading quality improvements in education, for the benefit of students and patient care? If so, this is the course for you. The Edinburgh Summer School is packed with workshops to develop your skills around teaching, learning and assessment – with enough theory to give you the tools and the confidence to lead change, evaluate developments and ensure excellence in your future practice.

The social programme includes a welcome reception and a course dinner and in the evenings you may wish to explore the potpourri of events in the internationally famous Edinburgh Festival Fringe.

What Previous Participants have said

“A very enjoyable and useful experience. I feel much more confident in my teaching and am already implementing some of the techniques discussed”

“I think it was brilliant and met all of my needs as a doctor in training.”

Monday 12 August - The Learner

Morning: Learning needs and professional development

Afternoon: Mentoring and appraisal

Tuesday 13 August - Teaching methods

Morning: Large group teaching

Afternoon: Small group teaching

Wednesday 14 August - Assessment

Morning: Writing and evaluating questions

Lunchtime Keynote Address:

Professor Pauline McAvoy MBChB MRCGP FRNZCGP - Interim Medical Director, National Clinical Assessment Service “Doctors in difficulty: lessons from the National Clinical Assessment Service.”

Afternoon: Principles and practice of assessment

Thursday 15 August - The clinical setting

Morning: Clinical teaching

Afternoon: Objective structured clinical examinations

Friday 16 August - Aligning learning, teaching and assessment

Morning: Workplace based assessment

Afternoon: Designing and evaluating courses

Registration for the full week is £650 and covers all tutoring, receptions and the Course Dinner. Registration for individual sessions subject to availability. Sequence may vary. Accommodation available: best to book early <http://www.ed.ac.uk/schools-departments/accommodation-services/staffandvisitors/visitor-accom>

Closing date for applications 31st May 2013

Online registration available from December 2012:

<http://www.ed.ac.uk/schools-departments/medicine-vet-medicine/summer-school/>

Further information: Tel 0131 242 6536 or essce@ed.ac.uk

The University of Edinburgh is a charitable body, registered in Scotland, with registration number SC005336.